

Non-Senate Faculty Lecturer/Supervisor in Secondary Education

Department of Education Studies

University of California, San Diego (UCSD)

With a commitment to excellence and diversity the University of California, San Diego Department of Education Studies (EDS) invites applications for the position of Non-Senate Faculty (NSF) Lecturer/Supervisor in Secondary Education, beginning July 1, 2016. EDS is an interdisciplinary department committed to equity and grounded in a close intersection between research and practice. Our mission is to collaboratively transform educational systems to better serve all students and our new colleague will share that passion. Academic offerings include undergraduate education minors, professional preparation programs in elementary, secondary, and Deaf education, and two doctoral programs. EDS Faculty research interests include linguistic and cultural diversity, teacher learning, leadership, and policy, school leadership and change, family and school partnerships, and uses of educational technology in teaching and learning. To learn more about the UCSD Department of Education Studies you may visit our website at <http://eds.ucsd.edu>.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in our M.Ed/Single Subject professional preparation program, which will be assigned based on expertise. The candidate will also supervise student teachers and interns in local secondary schools and assist with school placements. In addition to having demonstrated the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, the preferred candidates will have experience or demonstrated contributions to a climate that supports equity, inclusion and diversity.

Required qualifications include:

- Master's degree or equivalent;
- Valid California Single Subject Credential with English Learner Authorization in one or more of the following areas: English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, or World Language;
- Five or more years of outstanding teaching at the secondary level in public schools;
- Previous experience mentoring and/or supporting student teachers, intern teachers, and/or apprentice teachers;
- Knowledge of San Diego area public schools;
- Experience in working on collaborative teams;
- Teacher leadership experience at the school, district, or county levels; and
- A strong and demonstrated commitment to furthering equity, diversity and the improvement of public education.

Additional desired qualifications include: California Single Subject credential in an additional content area or in Special Education; Bilingual Authorization and/or bilingual skills; California Multiple Subject credential; experience teaching at the post-secondary level; experience recruiting and preparing secondary teachers; expertise in education technology.

Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications, based on UC Pay scales. Advancement as a represented Non-Senate Faculty Lecturer/Supervisor of Teacher Education at the University of California is dependent upon re-appointment.

Closing Date: Review of applications will begin on March 28, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Cheryl Forbes (cforbes@ucsd.edu) or Dr. Rachel Millstone (rmillstone@ucsd.edu), Co-Chairs of the Search Committee.

To apply: Applicants should submit a letter of interest that describes their training and relevant experience. In addition, applicants should provide a Curriculum Vitae or resume, a statement of teaching philosophy and contributions to diversity, as well as three letters of reference. Application materials should be submitted in PDF format via UCSD AP On-Line RECRUIT <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01059>, an electronic job application system.
