

Faculty Employment Opportunity

POSITION:

Assistant Professor of Education - Elementary Social Studies and Bilingual (Spanish) Education-

Tenure-track appointment to begin in Fall 2020. Duties include teaching social studies methodology courses in the Multiple Subject (Elementary Teaching) Credential program in the Department of Teacher Education and teaching courses for Bilingual certification. Facilitate teacher candidates' development in teaching social studies to K-8 students. Model and explain how beginning teachers can use history and the related social sciences to develop students' understanding of the physical world, encourage their participation and responsibility within the democratic system of government, teach students about our past, help students understand basic economic principles, develop basic concepts of personal financial literacy, and improve their ability to make reasoned decisions based upon evidence. Develop beginning teachers' understanding of the vital role these disciplines play in the development of student literacy because of their shared emphasis on text, argumentation, and use of evidence. Teach beginning teachers effective pedagogical strategies to independently read and comprehend instructional materials that include increasingly complex subject-relevant texts and graphic/media representations presented in diverse formats. Teach practices for writing a variety of texts in which students make claims and form interpretations based on a variety of primary and secondary documents.

This position requires also supervising student teaching/fieldwork. All faculty members have advising responsibilities, are required to engage in scholarship and provide service to the department/college/university. Assignment may include teaching and advising in the Master of Arts program, and teaching at off-site centers. Additional responsibilities include program development and implementation; development of contracts and grants; development of university/school partnerships; chairing Masters theses; and service to community, county and district agencies and professional organizations.
