Conference Theme:

“Educating All Students for the Future: Strengthening the Special Education/General Education Partnership”

Building upon CCTE’s commitment to social justice and the importance of creating alliances for teacher education, the Fall 2006 Conference will explore the theme of including and educating all students. Teacher educators and other interested professionals will come together to consider the empirical, political, and practical ramifications of partnerships that prepare all teachers to educate students with disabilities. Inclusion, collaboration, co-teaching—how do we empower our current and future teachers to embrace these research-based practices? Accommodations and modifications in assessment and instruction—what works? Model programs, teacher preparation curricular materials, promising directions in credential design—gather new ideas! Teacher educators in special education and general education are looking forward to forging new alliances that will strengthen our preservice, induction, and inservice efforts on behalf of California’s students who have disabilities. The Fall Conference will seek to provide an open and proactive exploration of teacher education’s role—our values, beliefs, and actions—as we prepare California’s teachers to educate all children.

Program Highlights

The keynote speaker on Thursday afternoon, October 19, will be Stuart Schwartz of National University and the keynote speaker on Friday morning, October 20, will be Deborah Smith of Claremont Graduate University. The three-day program will feature panel presentations, policy sessions, special interest groups, research sessions, mini-workshops, a reception and banquet on Thursday, an awards luncheon on Friday, a silent auction, and ample opportunities for networking and meeting new teacher education colleagues from across the state. The Saturday morning program will feature several practice-oriented models that can be put to immediate use in teacher education programs to address the special education/general education interface.

Who Should Attend?

Teacher educators, including subject matter faculty, at colleges and universities (two-year, four-year, and graduate), BTSA directors and staff and other K-12-based teacher educators, supervisors of student teachers, classroom teachers, school district and county office staff development personnel, students in credential programs, state education leaders, members of professional associations, staff at research centers — everyone interested in and involved in teacher education, induction, and professional development across California. Note the special registration rates for first-time attendees. It is not necessary for one to be a CCTE delegate or member to attend the Conference, although membership is encouraged (see CCTE membership form on the page following the Conference registration form).
